

Nas Disses 50 Cent

Saturday, 05 July 2008

If you thought Nas would not have time to diss 50 on his new album title, "Untitled." You are wrong. The Queens native is back with bars to go at 50 Cents. Here is Nas verse from the track called, "Queens Get The Money." Nas drops lines at 50 like,

"Ni***** is still hatin/talkin that Nas done fell off with rhyming /he'd rather floss with diamonds/they pray please god let him spit that oozie in the army lining that shorty doo-wop rolling oowops in the park reclining take twenty-seven mc's put em /in a line and they out of alignment/my assignment said she said retirement hiding behind 8 Mile and The Chronic/get rich but dies rhyming/this is high science/now add 23 more from queens to b'more/i'm over they heads like a bulimic on a seesaw/now that's 50 porch monkeys ate up at the same time"

It will be interesting if 50 Cent responds to the heavy weight Nas or will 50 wait until Nas' album loses it's buzz? One thing is for sure Nas looks like he is ready to step into the ring. This summer looks as if it is just getting warmed up.
